POETICAL.

THE "UNSURPASSED" HYMN.

In the New Englander, for August, 1860, Dr. Bacon pronounces the following exquisite hymn "unsurpassed in the English or any other language," and adds that "perhaps it is as near perfection as any uninspired language can be." It is usually ascribed to Hillhouse, the poet, but Dr. Bacon, it was written by his younger brother, Augustus L. Hillhouse, who died near Paris in March, 1859:

Trembling before thine awful throne,
O Lord! in dust my sins I own,
Justice and mercy for my life
Contend! Oh! smile and heal the strife.

The Saviour smiles! upon my soul
New tides of hope tumultuous roll—
His voice proclaims my pardon found,
Seraphic transports wings the sound.

Earth has a joy unknown in heaven—
The new born peace of sin forgiven!
Tears of such pure and deep delight,
Ye angels! never dimmed your sight.

Ye saw of old, on chaos rise
The beauteous pillars of the skies;
Ye know where morn exultant springs,
And evening folds her drooping wings.

Bright heralds of the Eternal Will,
Abroad his errands ye fulfill;
Or throned in floods of beamy day,
Symphonious in his presence play.

Loud is the song—the heavenly plain
Is shaken with the choral strain—
And dying echoes floating far,
Draw music from each chiming star.

But I amid your choir shall shine,
And all your knowelge shall be mine;
Ye on your harps must learn to hear
A secret chord that mine will bear.

MURMURINGS.

Falling, falling—gently falling,
Patting on the window pane,
Like a wierd spirit calling,
Come the heavy drops of rain.

Sweep by the crazy casements,
Where the creeping ivy clings,
Sounds the wind in gustful musings,
Loudly speaking "little things."

Hush! the toues are sinking lower,
Sweetest strains of music rise,
Like aolian harps in heaven,
Pouring incense o'er the soul.

But 'tis gone! a wilder wailing,
Fills the air where music reigned,
Hoarsely groans the wild storm demon,
Drowning all those sweeter strains.

And the tall pines shakes and quiver,
As the monarch rideth by,
Onward where the troubled river,
Dashes spray drops towards the sky.

But he pauses not to listen,
Onward, with demoniac will,
Till the æolian harps in heaven,
Softly whisper, "Peace, be still."

Miscellaneous.

[COMMUNICATED.]

IN MEMORIAM OF JAMES FRAZER, Company F, 46th Regt. Penna. Vols, who died July 21st, 1864, of wounds received in the battle of Peachtree Creek, Ga., the day previous, whose remains were brought home and interred in the graveyard of the U. P. Church of Frankfort Springs, on the 5th of March, 1866.

Alas, were it not for incidents such as this, I fear in the day of peace we would forget the brave hearts that have sacrificed themselves for their country's salvation. And among all the sainted host, who have made this sacrifice, there shines not a brighter name than that of Sergeant Frazer's. He was among the first to leave his home for the three years service—cheerfully exchanging the pleasures of home for the rude and savage life of the soldier; a life, of all others, least compatible with his nature, which was as mild and gentle as a child's.—And yet in that gentle heart was a courage, virtue, heroism and patriotism that deserves to be remembered forever. Bravely and well he fought through the arduous campaigns of Banks, Fremont, McDowell and Pope, fighting bravely at a Winchester, Cross Keys, Cedar Mountain, Chantilly, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville and Gettysburg. Then again in the Army of the Tennessee, see him under the gallant Hooker, charging up a Lookout Mountain, not stimulated by that brutal courage that rushes madly to destruction, but by that higher courage which arms a man for life and death. He was a man who had much to live for, and yet feared not to die, whose life was one of those that afford a pleasure to trave through every stage of existence; from the school boy to the man, soldier, and hero; and from the hero to heaven—a life that united virtue, manhood, religion, and every grace that could adorn the human life, and who was a man in all things whose like we shall not soon see again.

And while we sympathise with his family and friends, whose hearts have thus been made to bleed afresh, we cannot but acknowledge the kindness of that Providence that at last allowed his bones a resting place in his own family graveyard, in the sight of the home of his childhood, where the foot of his country's foe can never desecrate his grave.

Would it Not be Humiliating.

It is a well known and undeniable fact that the copperhead nomination for Governor of Pennsylvania was offered, first, to General Meade, and then to General Hancock. The hero of Gettysburg scarcely knew how to treat the tender. He was not certain whether it was designed as a personal insult or a good political joke. Viewed in any light, it was distasteful to the grim soldier, and he therefore indignantly rejected it. Next, General Hancock was manipulated, or rather essayed to be handled, for copperhead purposes. But this gallant soldier had many contacts with traitors, and was therefore accustomed to their tactics. He knew all about the strategy of traitors who had courage to meet him in fair fight, and could easily penetrate the veil of those who, too cowardly to fight for what they believed to be right, supposed him mean enough to lend his glory that the wrong might be enabled to triumph at the ballot box, after it had been so signally defeated on the battle-field. General Hancock, therefore, with indignation, and disgust, threw the offer of a copperhead nomination for Governor, in to the teeth of the man who made it. Thus rebuffed and, rebuked, the copperheads of Pennsylvania could do nothing less than nominate Hiester Clymer. Two gallant Pennsylvania soldiers refused that equivocal honor, because its acceptance would have been tantamount to stultification. The men who had this Copperhead nomination to give are those who opposed the war as unjust on the part of the Government. Step by step they cast obstacles in the way of the military success of such heroes as Meade and Hancock, and yet when the soldiers had crowned themselves with glory, the Copperheads had the audacity to ask that this glory should be prostituted for their political success. And when this request was refused by the soldiers, the Copperheads turned to their idols—turned to the demagogues who had been true to their opposition to the Government, who had maligned all who assisted in the effort to crush treason, and from among these selected one fully worthy of their confidence, and crowned Hiester Clymer with the honor which Meade and Hancock had cast from them and spat upon. And yet, it is now asked that the President of the United States should support a nomination of a party which two of the most gallant soldiers in the country rejected. The very proposition is monstrous, and sends a chill to the heart of every loyal man in the State.—Har. Tel.

JOHN B. GOUGH'S FIRST EXPERIENCE IN LECTURING.—At a banquet given in Chicago a short time since, to John B. Gough, he told his first experience as a public speaker. His first speech was when he signed the pledge, in a temperance meeting at Worcester, Mass. His comrades snickered as he went forward, and he, looking them square in the eye, exclaimed aloud: "What are you laughing at? Do you see that hand? (He held it up.) It trembles. But with that hand I am going to sign this pledge, and then you may laugh as much as you please." A little while after he attended another temperance meeting. The Chairman called on him to state to the audience how he got along, etc. He arose and said he was getting along finely, hadn't drank a drop since taking the pledge; was going to stick to it and felt happy about it. This was his second public speech. He soon made another and longer one; a collection was taken; this, the first remuneration he ever received for a lecture, amounted to exactly two dollars! He was soon solicited to make a stump tour for temperance of a fortnight's duration. He asked and obtained permission of his employer, who was a bookbinder, to go, with the understanding that his situation should be retained for him. The books he had in hand were just ready for gilding. He wrapped them in his apron, turned his back upon them and has not seen them since. He spoke at one stretch almost every night for a year, and averaged less than two dollars per lecture.

HOW TO JUDGE THE WEATHER.—The colors of the sky at different times are a wonderful guidance. Not only does a clear sunset presage fair weather, but there are other tints which speak with clearness and accuracy. A bright yellow in the evening indicates wind; a pale yellow, wet; a neutral gray color constitutes a favorable sign in the evening—an unfavorable one in the morning. The clouds are full of meaning in themselves. If they are soft, undefined and, feathery, the weather will be fine; if the edges are hard, sharp and definite, it will be foul. Generally speaking, any deep, unusual hues betoken wind and rain; while more quiet and delicate tints bespeak fair weather. Simple as these maxims are, the British Board of Trade has thought fit to publish them for the use of seafaring men.—Rural New Yorker.

AN INVENTION.—When the great elephant Hannibal was passing through Maryland, an ancient colored lady who had never seen an elephant met him on the road, and throwing up her hands in admiration, exclaimed, "Bress de Lord, what things they do get up fur dis war!" The old lady took him for a new yankee invention.

Elegant English.

The Nation, thus comments upon the use of "fine language" in this country: "How few people live in houses; how many 'reside' in residences or mansions. How few schools there are left; how many academies and institutes, and establishments.—The race of women is nearly extinct, while ladies swarm all over the land. Such a thing as a fowl is now hardly ever seen on a dinner table; the oldest cock that is ever served up is sure to be a chicken. Mutton, too, is becoming scarcer and scarcer; lamb is plentiful. There has not been for many a day such a thing in the United States as a storekeeper or shopkeeper; the smallest peddler is now a merchant. We hardly ever hear of anybody in the newspapers, not a day-laborer, who does not move in the very best society and who does not boast of fine talents and dignified manners. Nobody now delivers a speech or an address on any set occasion; he delivers an oration."

The President is fast ceasing to be President, having been promoted to the office of Our Chief Magistrate. There are even very few men of moderate attainments, most men who lay claim to anything beyond a common school education, and are actually not engaged in business, are spoken of as ripe scholars, and if they at the same time do not spit or chew, and abstain from morning drinks, they become accomplished gentlemen. If anybody advocates negro suffrage he takes his stand on the platform of the brotherhood of man. Stewed oysters and chicken salad are neither a supper nor a lunch, but an elegant collation. Sermons are nearly all—or at least all those that are considered worth speaking of—powerful discourses. Even wives are gradually disappearing; men write themselves down in the hotel books as being accompanied by their ladies, whatever they may mean. In most parts of the West, even academies and institutes bid fair to become extinct, their places being taken by universities."

"No girl now ever leaves school; she graduates. Inns and taverns have disappeared long ago; we find nothing but hotels in all directions. There are even signs that bar-rooms will soon be superseded by sample rooms. The process has already been begun in New York. People do not teach things now; they are professors of them. Corn doctors are chiropodists. Barbers are not to be found in any of the large cities, while hair dressers abound. Members of Congress and politicians even are becoming somewhat rare. They are gradually becoming statesmen. Some people think we are falling off in our manners, but in our language at least the high polite was never more successfully cultivated."

BAD SIGNS.—A large number of those peaceful people, the Quakers, have been obliged to leave their homes in North Carolina, on account of the persistent annoyances and vexations that they received from their neighbors. They must have lived there before the war, and, of course, under the slavery regime. Hence it would appear that their bad neighbors are more abusive and violent now than they were then. We are sorry to hear of such conduct among those whom we supposed submissive to the laws. It bodes no good to themselves, and it brings a cloud on the prospect of a speedy return of the country to a healthy condition. These Friends, unable longer to endure the annoyances to which they were exposed, have determined to remove to the State of Indiana. And it is easy to see, that if these old residents were not allowed to live in peace among the late rebels of North Carolina, strangers attempting to settle there would be still more liable to inconvenience and danger from their bad conduct.—Exchange.

"WARN'T THAR."—The following is told of the "Hard-shell" Baptist preachers:

Two of them were in the same pulpit together. While one was preaching he happened to say, "When Abraham built the ark."

The one behind him strove to correct his blunder, by crying aloud—"Abraham warn't thar."

But the speaker rushed on heedless of the interruption, and only to occasion shortly to repeat, still more decidedly, "I say, when Abraham built the ark."

"And I say," cried the other, "Abraham warn't thar."

The Hard shell was too hard to be beaten down in this way, and, addressing the people, exclaimed, with great indignation, "I say Abraham was thar or tharabout."

TESTIMONIAL TO GOVERNOR CURTIN.—The soldiers of Pennsylvania, it is stated, intend to prepare a valuable and suitable testimony to his Excellency Governor Andrew G. Curtin, who during the rebellion always proved himself to be the soldier's friend. If republics are sometimes are, ungrateful, soldiers are not, and they intend to give a practical demonstration of the fact in the testimonial to Governor Curtin. What the precise nature of the testimonial will be has not been determined upon, but it will be such as to afford every Pennsylvania soldier, no matter what his rank, an opportunity to be equally represented.

Good Democratic Endorsement.

Forney's Press says that after the bloody battle at Wauhatchie, which ended in a glorious victory to the Union troops under command of the gallant Geary, and the relief of the army at Chattanooga, General Slocum, the commander of the Twelfth Army Corps, and recently the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State of New York, addressed the following letter to the hero who is now leading the forces of the Union in this State against the enemies of their country:

"HEADQUARTERS 12TH CORPS,
ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND,
MURFREESBORO, TENN, Nov. 13, '63.

MY DEAR GENERAL,—I am very happy to hear the good reports which reach me from all sides relative to the conduct of your command in the recent action. The contest was one of very great importance. The highest credit is awarded to you and your command, not only by General Thomas, but by all officers conversant with the circumstances.

As I was not with you I can claim no portion of the credit gained, nor can I, with good taste, publish an order expressing thanks to you; but I wish you and your command to know that I have been informed of all the facts in the case, and that I feel deeply grateful for their gallant conduct, and for the new laurels they have brought to our corps.

Your old't serv't and sincere friend,
H. W. SLOCUM.

Brig. Gen. J. W. Geary, commanding 2d Division, 12th Army Corps.

TOO MANY IN A BED.—Emigration to the State of Michigan was so great during the year 1835 and 1836, that all the houses were filled every night with travelers. Every traveler there at that time will remember the difficulty of obtaining a bed in the hotels, even if he had two or three "strange bedfellows."

The Rev. Hosea Brown, an eccentric Methodist minister, stopped one night at one of the hotels in Ann Harbor, and inquired if he could have a room and bed to himself. The bar-keeper told him he could, unless they should become so full as to render it necessary to put another in with him.

At an early hour the Reverend gentleman went to his room, locked the door, went to bed, and sank into a comfortable sleep. Along toward midnight he was aroused from his slumber by a loud knock at his door.

"Hallo! you there," he exclaimed, "what do you want now?"—particular stress on the last word.

"You must take another lodger, sir, in with you," said the voice of the landlord.

"What! another yet?"

"Why, yes, there's only one in here, isn't there?"

'One! Why, here's Mr. Brown, and the Methodist preacher, and myself, already; and I think that enough for one bed, even in Michigan."

The landlord seemed to think so, too, and left the trio to their repose.

TAKING COLD.—Thousands take cold and bring upon themselves various forms of incurable disease, by laying aside an extra garment when perspiring from heat or vigorous exercise. When exercise has been taken the person should rest awhile before removing an extra garment, and if lying down or exposed to a current of air, more clothing, instead of less, should be added till well rested.—When exposed to cold from getting the feet or person wet, dry clothing should be put on, and vigorous exercise taken, however stupid the person may feel, unless too much exercise has been previously taken, in which case, removes the damp clothing, retire immediately to bed, cover very warm and put warm bricks or flat irons to the feet so as to create warmth in a short time. Before, and during the continuance of exercise, a person may drink cold water, but never immediately on ceasing from exercise, however thirsty.

Kentucky.

The "Democrats" of Kentucky have called a State Convention to reorganize their party, to meet at Louisville, May 1st. The Louisville Journal objects that those who call it are ex-Rebels. But the Journal cooperated with that breed in supporting M'Clellan and Pendleton in 1864 and in successful opposition to "the Radicals" in 1865. The Journal's "Conservative" party has enfranchised the Rebels, and they are destined to rule the State—till they drive her over to the "Radicals." The Journal and its clique of half and half are now stigmatized by the Democrats as fossil remains of extinct parties that have heretofore opposed the "Democracy." Hit 'em again!—Tribune.

HOW TO GET RICH.—Nothing is more easy, than to grow rich. It is only to trust nobody, to befriend none; to get everything, and to save all we get, to stint ourselves and every body belonging to us, to be the friend of no man, and to have no man for your friend; to have interest, cent upon cent; to be mean, miserable and despised, for some twenty or thirty years, and riches will come as sure as diseases and disappointment.

A Country Home.

The following tribute to the charms and elevating influence of a rural life is from the pen of the Hon. Horace Greely, principal editor of the New York Tribune:

"As for me, long tossed on the stormiest waves of doubtful conflict and arduous endeavor, I have begun to feel, since the shades of forty years fell upon me, the weary tempest-driven voyagers longing for land; the wanderer a yearning for the hamlet, where, in childhood, he nestled by his mother's knee, and was soothed to sleep on her breast. The sober, down-hill of life dispels many illusions, while it develops or strengthens within us the attachment, perhaps long smothered or overlaid, for 'that dear but, or home.' And so I, in the sober afternoon of life, when its sun, if not high, is still warm, have bought a few acres of land in the broad, still country, and, bearing hither my household treasures, have resolved to steal from the city's labors and anxieties, at least one day in each week, whereby to revive as a farmer, the memories of my childhood's humble home. And already I realize that the experiment cannot cost so much as it is worth. And I find in that day's quiet an antidote and a solace for the feverish, festering cares of the week which environ it.—Already my brook murmurs even song to my burning, throbbing brain; and my trees, gently stirred by the fresh breezes, whisper to my spirit something of their own quiet strength and patient trust in God. And thus do I faintly realize, but for a brief flitting day, the serene joy which shall irradiate the farmer's vocation, when a fuller and truer education shall have refined and chastened his animal cravings, and when science shall have endowed him with her treasures, redeeming labor from drudgery while quadrupling its efficiency, and crowning with beauty and plenty our bounteous beneficent earth."

The Third Atlantic Cable.

The preparations for laying the Atlantic cable during the ensuing summer, have been recommenced in England. As before, the Great Eastern, commanded by Captain Anderson, will be employed; Mr. Canning and Mr. Clifford are again to be entrusted with the mechanical task of laying the cable—and the mysterious Do Santy again in charge of the electrical department. The new cable is identical in construction with the last, except its outer wires, which are galvanized, will be closely covered with Manilla hemp, and that it bears a strain of from fifteen cwt. to a ton more than that of last year. About one hundred and sixty miles of the cable have been made, and the manufacture will soon proceed at the rate of one hundred miles per week. Early in June, the Great Eastern will leave Valentia with the new cable on board and again endeavor to lay it in the Atlantic to Newfoundland. If this effort be successful, the great steamer having taken in a supply of coal, will return to the mid Atlantic, to grapple for the last lost cable, the locality can be ascertained within a quarter of a mile. Two other vessels will be provided with scientifically constructed grappling apparatus, which, it is calculated, will bring the cable to the surface, if once it be laid hold of.—The attempt will be to grapple it in three places, at intervals of about two miles. When recovered—more correctly if recovered—a message will be sent through this old cable to Valentia, to test its electrical condition, and if this be good, it will be spliced on to that part of the old cable which remained on board the Great Eastern, after last year's failure, and the mammoth steamer will then proceed back to Newfoundland, trying to lay a second sub Atlantic telegraph. Of course, many casualties may interfere with with these arrangements and projects, but, at present, what is here stated constitutes the cable programme for 1866.

MAJ. GEN. JOHN BROWN, a rebel officer and brother of Gov. Neil S. Brown, resides at Pulaski, Giles county, Tenn. He was not an original secessionist, but he yielded to the madness of the times at an early period, and raised the second company of volunteers in the county. He was twice wounded, reached Nashville after the surrender with just two dollars in his pocket and a badly damaged wardrobe. He claims now to be thoroughly reconstructed, and says that "the rebels of the South will unite with Democrats of the North and rule the country." After relating the above fact, the Pittsburg Gazette pithily inquires whether the "rebels of the South" and the "Democrats of the North" have not been united all the while? It seems like a work of supererogation, at this late day, to get up a marriage between these parties.—And after they have been prevented in fierce fight, from utterly destroying the country, it seems like insane presumption for these parties to aspire to its governmental control.

PRETTY IDEA.—Bancroft, in his history of the United States, has the following: While the squaw toils in the field, she hangs her child, as Spring does its blossoms, on the bough of a tree, that it may be rocked by the breezes, from the land of souls, and soothed to sleep by the melody of the birds.

Barnum and Bonner on Advertising.

Prof. H. G. Eastman, of Eastman's Business College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., delivered a lecture in Chicago, a short time since, and took for his subject, "Advertising, and How to Do It." He appreciates the benefits arising from advertising, and understands how to do it with profit. There are only three men this country who thoroughly understand advertising—Barnum, and Stewart, of New York, and Bonner of the N. Y. Ledger.

Not one business man out of ten knows how to write an advertisement so as to attract the attention and excite the interest of the reader. Stewart pays a man several thousand dollars a year for writing his advertisements.

The great mistake in most advertisers is that they crowd too much in one advertisement. Almost everything they have to sell must be named in their advertisements, and not one man in fifty reads it. One thing at a time should be advertised, and that frequently; and the aim should be to excite, not satisfy the curiosity of the reader. For instance, advertise Sugar! Sugar! Sugar! People would have their attention attracted by that one word, and would buy sugar. The result would be established. Stewart advertised his cotton alone all over the country. It brought him immense returns, and to-day he is the merchant prince of New York city. Bonner bought the Ledger for $200, when it had only one hundred and seventy five circulation.

He went to see Mr. Barnum, to consult what was the best plan for advertising. They at last fixed upon a plan, which was to have a story written especially for the purpose and printed in every paper in the State of New York, in cities, and towns and villages. The name of this story was the "Gunmaker of Moscow." The first part of this story was put into every paper on the same Saturday morning. At the end of part first it stated that it would be continued in the New York Ledger, published by Bonner. The story was copied into Massachusetts papers, thence into Pennsylvania papers, and thence into those of other States, and Mr. Bonner soon became one of the richest publishers in the United States. The great advantage of having a large column advertisement in a paper was, that it covered other advertisements—people could not help seeing it.

Mr. Bonner once went to Bennett, the editor of the New York Herald, and asked him if he could leave three pages in the morrow's papers for his advertisement of the Ledger! The answer was yes, if he would pay double rates, he might have as much as he pleased. Upon which, Mr. Bonner said he would have the whole paper. The consequence was that the next day the paper had nothing but Bonner's advertisement in it.

On one page in large letters, it was stated that an article written by Henry Ward Beecher would be in The Ledger, and so on through the whole eight pages. Mr. Bonner did not advertise all he had to sell, but only attracted attention to The Ledger.

To-day the Ledger has over three hundred thousand circulation, and Bonner drives his twenty thousand dollar span of horses.

Barnum paid $200 for his museum with a debt of $8,000 upon it. He thought of advertising, and finally hit upon the following plan: He employed a number of painters, making them promise not to say anything about what he was going to do, and ordered them to paint pictures of all the animals in the country, and a few that never was in any country. These were one night stuck all over the front of the building. When people came past in in the morning, they wondered where they had all come from; and before the day was over, the museum was crowded. And this was repeated day after day, when at last he saw several thousand outside unable to get in. He then made a passage to Ann street, and advertised that he had "an egress" in his museum; which drew greater crowds than ever, whom he showed through the egress to Ann street.

Mr. Barnum says of advertising; "I never patronize a business that don't advertise, for the reason that I invariably get cheated. The penurious principle, that prevents a man from keeping his business before the people by advertising, will prevent him from selling cheap."

CURE FOR THE SMALL POX.—The Richmond Times gives the following receipt for the cure of small pox.—The mode of treatment is as follows;

When the preceding fever is at its height, and just before the eruption appears, the chest is rubbed with croton oil and tartaric ointment. This causes the whole of the eruption to appear on that part of the body, to the relief of the rest. It also secures a full and complete eruption, and thus prevents the disease from attacking internal organs. This is said to be the established mode of treatment in the English army in China, by general orders, and is regarded as a perfect cure.

AN exchange informs us that Basil Duke, who furnished the rebel marauder John Morgan with brains, is in Cincinnati, engaged in the produce and commission business.

Farm, House, &c.

MIXED STOCK IN PASTURE.—It noticed, some time ago, a good deal written about keeping a mixed stock on pastures. As I have been a keeper of stock from very early youth until now, I venture to give my opinion.—And first, I have found sheep do very well amongst cattle, but cattle do badly amongst sheep. To prove it, let the farmer take the fodder loft by the cattle, even when part of it has been trodden under their feet, and if the sheep are not fully fed, he will see the sheep eat it up greedily; then let him take what his sheep leaves and offer it to his cattle, and he will find they won't taste it if they can get anything else; or let him turn his milk cows in a sheep pasture, and he will find them fall in milk. Cattle do well where horses pasture. In proof of this, every farmer must have seen that cattle will eat the litter of horses, even if fully fed, but horses won't eat what cattle leave, unless compelled to do so. But horses and sheep will do well in some pastures, especially the horses. To prove this, let the farmer turn out the sheep from their yards, turn in his horses, and they will eat up all the sheep have left, even the litter around the racks.—John Johnson.

ABOUT CHICKORY.—A lady correspondent of the Rural New Yorker, writes as follows:

"Chickory has been highly recommended by Solon Robinson as a substitute for coffee. It is a very good medicine for people who are subject to costiveness, possessing about the same medical properties as the dandelion. It is dangerous to use in summer when diarrhœa is prevalent. The flavor of pure Java will hang in the minds of children around the old kitchen cookery, like the scent of the rose under mother's favorite window. It is cheaper to raise corn, or potatoes, or berries, and buy coffee, than to poison the ground with chickory.—For instance, last year a friend of mine came home one day with a huge paper of chickory seed, thinking to supply a certain coffee vender with the commodity. The roots spangle long and deep into the earth; when dug out some fibres yet remain, to again spring up. His labor to eradicate the chickory has been sufficient to buy pure coffee for six ordinary families one year, and the end is not yet."

YELLOW AND WHITE CORN.—At a meeting of the Little Falls (N. Y.) Farmers' Club, the discussion turned upon the comparative sweetness and nutrition of the different varieties of corn. Dr. Isham said that yellow meal, when old, was apt to have a bitter taste. Yellow corn contained more oil than white, and when the meal was kept some time, the abundance of oil had a tendency to become rancid—hence the bitter taste of the meal.

SPRINGS IN A HORSE'S HOOF.—Every one knows the additional power of resisting or sustaining concussion and weight any fibrous substance has, if struck or pressed in the direction of the fibres, besides if acted on in any other. The hoof of the horse is composed of an infinite number of dense fibres, strongly agglutinated together, and to enable it with the greatest advantage to meet and support the concussion there is when it strikes the ground, these fibres are every one of them so placed in the unshod foot as to receive the shock directly on their ends. In addition to this, the front part of the hoof, where the force of concussion is greatest, is twice or thrice as thick and strong as the sides and heels, its slope indicating exactly the direction of the descent of the horse's weight.

REMEDY FOR SCRATCHES.—In answer to an inquiry for a remedy for scratches, I will give one which I used for thirty five years with complete success, having never failed in one instance: Take white pine pith, rosin, beeswax, and honey, one ounce each, fresh lard, one half pound; melt well together over a slow fire, then add one half an ounce of sulphate of copper, stir till it is quite thick, so that the parts may not settle and separate. This makes an excellent application for harness galls, cuts and sores of all kinds, on horses and cattle.—Farmer and Gardener.

EVERGREENS.—Plant evergreens around your dwellings. Take up healthy trees in the spring or in the early part of the fall, bundle them carefully, and set them with proper regard to the rules of transplanting, and they will rarely fail to do well. In removing such trees, care should be taken to remove as much dirt with them as possible, and in transporting them be careful that no injury occurs either to the tops or the roots. Evergreens have a splendid appearance during the winter season, and in the summer months they produce a cool and refreshing shade.

FRUIT.—Generally, speaking, the smaller the quantity of fruit on a tree, the higher the flavor; therefore thin all fruits in moderation, but avoid excess; a single gooseberry on a bush, or a single bunch of grapes on a vine—no matter how fine it may be—is a disgrace to good fruit growing.

ONE animal well fed is of more value than two poorly kept.

FOR GOVERNOR,

GEN. JOHN W. GEARY,

OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

Grand Republican Victory--Gen. Hawley's Majority about 1,000 --Legislature Two to One.

The hardest political contest that was ever fought in the State of Connecticut, was decided on Monday in favor of the Republican party. The Copperheads have been claiming the State by from 2 000 to 3,000 majority.

The following is the latest dispatch:

HARTFORD, April 3, 2,30, a. m.

Returns from all but ten towns give Hawley 700 majority. The ten towns to hear from will probably increase his majority to 900. Senate stands 14 Republican to 7 Democrats; House, about 50 Republican majority.

THE President, as was anticipated, has vetoed the "Civil Rights Bill."—This bill declared all persons born in the United States, except Indians not taxed, to be citizens of the United States, and entitled alike to the rights and privileges of citizens and to the protection of the United States Government. The President objects to it because he regards the provisions as too sweeping, interfering with the rights of the States, and because he thinks the time has not yet come to declare negroes citizens of the United States. There appears a great deal of Southern prejudice against the negro in his veto message. It is very probable that Congress will pass the bill over his veto. This is the second important measure vetoed by the President this session. Tyler exercised the veto power four times during his administration, and for so doing rendered his administration and himself extremely unpopular with all parties. We fear President Johnson will cover his administration and himself with like odium. Both bills vetoed passed Congress by a two-thirds vote, and it is no small matter for a President to set up his judgment in opposition to the will of two-thirds of the Representatives of the people—It becomes an Executive to be very careful how he uses this extraordinary power vested in him by the Constitution. He should consider that it is more likely that he may be wrong than two-thirds of the Senators and Representatives in Congress.

SENATOR FOOT, of Vermont, died at his residence in Washington, on the 28th ult. He had been in the Senate sixteen years, and was familiarly called the father of the Senate. He was one of the ablest, purest and best men of the nation. Both of the Vermont Senators have died within a year. Collomer and Foot long represented Vermont in the Senate of the United States, and reflected great credit upon their State. Judge Poland was appointed to succeed Collomer. Who Foot's successor will be is not yet known. One thing is certain, Vermont will never send abler or better men than those two deceased Senators. A whole nation mourns their loss.

WE clip the following flattering notice of our Representative from the Philadelphia Inquirer. It is something to have so popular and worthy a Representative. Col. Quay is making for himself a State reputation, and the time is not far distant when the State will delight to do honor to the present Representative from Beaver county. Notwithstanding Mr. Quay has taken so prominent a part in the proceedings of the Legislature, and while the charge of corruption is so freely made against others, those who make the charge are always careful to say that our Representative is not included in the charge. He is above suspicion. Read what the Pittsburg Commercial says of him, in another column.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.—This bill has been prepared this year with extraordinary care. Acting upon the recommendation of the Governor, no money was given to any institution whose benefits were not open to all the people of the Commonwealth—in other words, no sectarian or local charity was favored. The Philadelphia members, as in duty bound, represented the claims of the different schools, homes and charities in their several districts, but without success.

When the bill was under consideration, the sections were ably defended by the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, Mr. Quay, of Beaver county, whose championship of any measure during the present session has been equivalent to its success.

PEACE PROCLAMATION.—President Johnson has issued his Proclamation, dated Washington, April 2, declaring the Insurrection ended and Peace restored.

Hasty Legislation.

PITTSBURGH, March 29, 1866.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I fear that great injustice may result to Mr. Quay from the article upon "Hasty Legislation," in the columns of the Commercial, as it may be inferred that the "hastiness" was in some measure attributable to him.—The conduct of that gentleman towards western interests, demands at the hands of his constituency warmest commendation, and this case needs only to be stated to place him in fairest light. The "Anthracite" bill in itself, as stated in the article, has no objectionable features, and the scouting in the Senate developed nothing upon which to base reprobation.

When it was desired to be offered, its friends sought an advocate whose reputation would place him above the miserable and degrading taint attached of late years to all eastern railroad legislation, and that is was found in Mr. Quay is evidenced by the manner in which it was passed, the very carelessness of the House being the highest possible compliment, showing that his connection with the matter was guarantee of its propriety. Permit me to assert that this confidence is well placed. If this "hastiness" be censurable, and it is, the censure should not fall upon him, but upon those who failed to check it. In this case the interests were local, and those upholding them without exception desired the passage of the bill.

I would join in denouncing "hasty legislation," but justice demands that denunciations should fall only upon the guilty; neither would I be understood as in favor of the bill in question. My desire is simply to do justice to one whom I believe to be an honorable man. A.

[In our article on railroad legislation at Harrisburg, we meant no reflection on Mr. Quay, but simply to show the people how easy some railroad bills could go through the House, while others equally as important and probably more honest are hung up in committees or laid upon the table, as well as to expose the lack of vigilance of members, who, though present, did not know such a bill was passed. We believe Mr. Quay to be a conscientious legislator, and a friend of Western interests.]—[ED. COMMERCIAL.

Senator Wilson's Bounty Bill.

The soldiers' Bounty Bill introduced into the U. S. Senate by Senator Wilson, provides as follows: Every honorably discharged soldier is to receive a bounty of $8 33 a month for every month he served during the war, but from this sum there is to be deducted any bounty already received by the soldier from the United States. The idea is to equalize the bounties, that both the soldiers who have received bounty, and those who have not, shall get a sum equal to $8 33 a month for every month of service. Nothing is to be paid to deserters, or to soldiers who were discharged at their own request, (unless the latter went into some other service in the army or navy;) nor is the bounty to be paid to soldiers who have traded away or transferred their discharges, and before the payment of the bounty to any soldier, he is to be required to make oath that he has not sold his discharge papers, or trade away or transferred them in any manner.—The bounty is to be paid to the soldier in person, at or near the place of his residence, and to no one else. No power of attorney, or similar transfer is to be recognized in the payment of the money. The bounty provided for in the act is to be paid to the heirs of deceased soldiers by the Second Auditor of the Treasury, according to the forms now provided by law. The fifth section of the act sets apart the proceeds of any tax hereafter to be laid on cotton for the payment of bounties provided in the bill.

The Eight Hour Law.

The following is Mr. Donnelly's eight hour bill, which passed the House on Thursday:

An act for the protection of laborers.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c., That hereafter labor performed during a period of eight hours on any secular day, in all cotton, woolen, silk, paper, bagging, flax and other factories or workshops, in the Commonwealth, shall be considered a legal day's labor, and hereafter contracts, made for the employment of mechanics and laborers, in all the various branches of trade for daily laborers, shall be construed to be for eight working hours to the day in any employment; Provided, That this act shall take effect from and after the first day of July next; and, Provided further, This does not apply to farmers or teamsters.

REAL ESTATE AND RENTS.—Says a New York letter: The amount of real estate offered for sale in this city just now is astonishing, and the fall from prices that obtained a few months ago is equally noticeable. A very large amount of real estate is offered at auction every week, but by no means all that is put up changes hands—owners not being satisfied with prices bid. Property of unquestionable value, however, command full rates. Up-town unimproved property, and some in down-town districts, that can no longer be reckoned among the fashionable regions of business or residence, show a great falling off. A short time ago, some lots on Eighty-third street, that in 1860 brought $765 each, were sold for $600, and other similar instances might be mentioned.

THE Freedmen's Bureau has recently received satisfactory reports from different portions of the Southern States regarding the condition of the freedmen. They unite in the statement that they are exhibiting great enterprise and energy in the prosecution of their labors under disadvantageous circumstances, and are nearly self-supporting.

Fiendish Murder.

A Man Murders his Divorced Wife, then Cuts his Throat From Ear to Ear.

A man named Molley, recently divorced from his wife at St. Louis, followed her to the residence of her brother, Mr Bauerman, living at Lake Station, thirty-six miles from Chicago, on the Michigan Central Railway.—What the cause was that led to separation of Molley and his wife has not been made public, but it must have been something very aggravating, for the feelings on both sides appear to have been intense. He desired to have her out of existence, and with such an intent, openly expressed, followed her from place to place, breathing vengeance. To escape him she sought refuge with her brother. On Tuesday evening she was so alarmed at hearing of his arrival at her brother's hotel, that she fled to her apartment and locked the door. At the time her brother was absent. Molley demanded admittance to her room, but was refused. He departed, and Mrs Molley dismissed from her mind all apprehensions, as he took the train for Chicago, and she went about her customary duties. On Wednesday evening she was sitting in one of the upper rooms of the hotel, with two of her brother's children who were kneeling before her with uplifted hands, repeating after her their simple evening prayer, when a footstep was heard ascending the stairs and stealthily approaching the door. Mrs. Molley turned round in her chair, the door suddenly opened, and ere she had time to utter a scream, the man whom above all she dreaded to meet stood before her with a revolver pointed at her head. Almost simultaneously he fired. The shot whizzed past her and lodged in the opposite wall of the apartment. The children, alarmed at the report, and at the appearance of the man, screamed frantically, and rushed into the corner of the room, where they remained terror stricken and almost insensible. Finding that the shot had missed its mark, Molley drew a large sheath knife from his belt, and rushing upon the defenceless woman, seized her by the hair, bending back her head, plunged the blade into her throat, completely severing the windpipe and jugular vein. The dreadful deed was accomplished before any alarm was given, and the murderer, his garments besmeared with the blood of his victim, rushed to the bottom of the stairs. He passed through the bar room, where a number of men were seated round the stove, reached the door, and shouting "now I am revenged!" fled from the house, and disappeared in the adjacent woods.

So quietly was the thing done, and so completely were the inmates of the house taken by surprise, that no attempt was made to bar his passage. Mrs. Molley, as soon as she had received the fatal stab, staggered out of the room and down the stairs, when she fell a corpse on the floor. Then a scene of unparalelled excitement took place. The women and children screamed, and the men rushed in all directions in pursuit of the murderer. The telegraph and hand cars were brought into use in endeavoring to intercept the assassin. On Thursday morning a large party organized and scoured the woods in every direction with the avowed determination to bring him dead or alive. In the afternoon he was found dead within two miles of the house, with his throat cut from ear to ear. The instrument of death was the same knife with which he killed his wife. When found the body was still warm, and bleeding freely, from which it is inferred that, fearful of being intercepted he concealed himself and upon the approach of the scouting party, cut his throat.

Freedom for the Irish, Franchise for the African.

A writer in the Bethlehem Chronicle, who signs himself G. W. Morton, (a negro,) offers to the friends of Irish freedom in Ireland to raise fifty thousand dollars among the colored people of Pennsylvania, provided that the leaders of the Fenians in this State will do all in their power, by action and conversation, to dissipate the prejudice which now exists among the Irish against, and to aid in doing justice to the negro by granting him the franchise. There is something noble and truly Christian like in the proposition. It is made at the right time and in the true spirit. Whatever we may think of the policy of extending the elective franchise to the negro, an offer like this, of contributing towards freedom in Ireland for the right of the franchise in America, made by the black men of the latter land, speaks volumes and cannot fail to elicit the respect and command the serious attention of the statesman and the philanthropist.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Resignation of Senator Clymer.

Hon. Heister Clymer, copperhead Senator from Berks county and copperhead candidate for Governor, resigned his seat in the Senate this morning. We are seriously inclined to the opinion that the Honorable gentleman has made a useless sacrifice By this act Senator Clymer of course seeks to impress his political friends with the belief that he approaches his fate in October next with becoming coolness, and that he is ready cheerfully to submit to the sacrifice which is to be made of him at that time by his party. But if the gentleman seeks to make other impressions, such as that he has a chance of success, he will be sadly mistaken and his friends wofully misled.—Har. Tel., 30th ult.

SENATOR CLYMER declares he is willing to sacrifice his life, if need be, in defence of the Union. Fudge! Why did he refuse all honor and enfranchisement to those who were actually making such sacrifices? Clymer voted against the soldiers on all questions affecting their rights as citizens or their interests as men.—Har. Tel.

TAX ON PETROLEUM.—Says a Washington letter.—I see nothing to change the opinion heretofore expressed, that the Ways and Means Committee will recommend that the tax upon crude petroleum be taken off. The Committee, it is reported, agreed to this prior to the passage of the request by the Legislature of your State, and surely they would be no less generous now. In the report of the Revenue Commission there is a recommendation asking the repeal of the tax upon "refined oil," but they are silent, I believe, upon the subject of the crude article. One or the other, there is little doubt, will be exempted from tax, but which cannot now be stated with confidence.

In consequence of insults to the National flag in various places in the Department of Arkansas, Gen. Reynolds has issued a special order, dated the 5th inst., for the "arrest on the spot of any persons, whatever, who, by word or deed may be guilty" of such outrage. Commanding officers are to receive parties so arrested and subject them to trial, and each commandant is especially enjoined to cause the National flag to be kept flying in all suitable weather. The order further directs the furnishing of additional ensigns to and their display by all officers in charge of public offices connected with the military service, and declares that all civil officers are entitled to display the National flag, and will be sustained in enforcing respect to the same.

OUR PLATFORM.—The Pennsylvania Republican platform excites great praise among the Republicans of other States. It is highly spoken of and commended by the Republican press everywhere. The Detroit Tribune says:

This the most significant political expression yet made, and it is to the honor of the staunch Union men of the Keystone State, that they have attained a higher expression in their platform than any State has given since the close of the war. We welcome the fact as an indication of a return to plain speaking and honest principles.

Death of Senator Foot.

Senator Foot, of Vermont, died in Washington, on the 28th inst. It is related that before taking leave, this morning of all in the room, including his wife, brother and nephew, and Mr. Baxter, of Vermont, Mr Foot expressed a desire to take a last look at the Capitol and requested to be raised in his bed so that he might do so. His wishes were at once complied with, and just as they had raised him so that his eyes rested on the building he expired.

The New Jersey Senatorship.

TRENTON, N. J., April 2.—The members of the Legislature have not arrived. Mr. Scovel arrived last night. The town is filling up fast with visitors. The Senatorial question is the topic of interest. Mr. Cattell and his friends will not recede.

Mr. Scovel has intimated a list of candidates acceptable to him, not including himself. No action has been taken to-night, but a movement will probably be made to-morrow

MAJOR GEORGE K. LEET, who enlisted in the service as private in the Chicago Board of Trade Battery, and was selected by Gen. Grant for the position of Adjutant General on his staff, owing to peculiar qualities of bravery and efficiency displayed on the field, has been promoted to the Adjutancy of the Lieutenant-General's staff, vice Colonel Bowers, deceased, with the rank of Major in the regular army.

THE Treasury Department is considering the propriety of placing the vignettes of Grant, Sherman, McCulloch and others on coupons. The making such additions to Government bonds, is to interfere with the counterfeiters' business, as it is admitted that the most successful means of detecting counterfeits is by comparing the genuine vignettes with the spurious.

The Tribune's Washington special says: During the last year of the war the Post Office earned a net profit of over $800,000 from mail service in the loyal States. The first three months that the mail service was resumed in the South, there was a loss in the whole country of over $20,000. As the mail routes are being extended over the South the deficiency rapidly increases

DECLINE IN PRICES.—The decline in the prices of domestic and foreign manufactures since the commencement of the year is from twenty-five to thirty per cent, and the extent of the losses sustained by importers and jobbers may be inferred from this.—Cotton has met with a still greater decline, and a good many articles have fallen at least fifty per cent.—N. Y. Express.

THE London Post declares that England has almost come to the conclusion that there ought to be no restrictions on any sea fishing, and warns the provincials, in case they should seek to enforce too stringently their supposed rights against American fishermen, that the British Government is not likely to make great sacrifices to support three thousand miles away, a right it has virtually abandoned at home.

THE WAY COPPERHEADS VOTE IN CONGRESS.—It is a matter of official Congressional record, that for six years copperhead Dan Voorhees was upon the House Committee on Elections, he never cast a vote in favor of ejecting a Democrat, or in favor of retaining a Whig or Republican. No better evidence could be adduced of the lack of candor, truth and justice on the part of such blatant advocates of a false Democracy as Voorhees.

ALEXANDER T. STEWART'S new palatial residence on the Fifth avenue, New York, is not excelled by any other building of its character in the country. Its cost will exceed $1,500,000. Its interior ornamentation, besides the magnificent columns, the beautiful carvings, the mosaics, mirrors, &c., will require the constant labor of the most skillful workmen for several months. Mr. Stewart anticipates occupying the mansion next winter.

THE Tribune's Austin, Texas, special correspondent writes: Governor Hamilton has received the resignations of a number of Sheriffs, whom he appointed, all of them testifying that the people resent their authority and having no force at their command, they are powerless.

THE proprietors of the Cincinnati Enquirer, whose office was destroyed by the great fire in that city, have purchased a new site on which to erect a large opera house and printing establishment. The fire caused only one day's suspension in the publication of the Enquirer.

THE Cork Examiner says it has excellent reasons for stating that Stephens has left Ireland and that before leaving, he advised the Fenians to pay more attention to their peaceful pursuits than they have been paying of late

A REGIMENT of mounted volunteers are going to the rescue of the citizens of Fort Benton, who have been threatened with violence by the savages in that region.

THE BEAVER ARGUS

April 4th, 1866.

LOCAL and MISCELLANEOUS.

☞ Wm. Bingham, Jr., 54 Fifth st., Pittsburg, is the authorized agent for the Argus in that city.

☞ A stable belonging to Jacob Miller, of the borough of Rochester, was consumed by fire on Friday evening last. It is supposed to have been fired by some person with a view of robbing the house. Loss about $400.

Stopping the Paper.—An exchange correctly remarks that when a man gets mad and stops his paper, he always borrows the next number of his neighbor, to see if the withdrawal of his subscription hasn't killed the editor, and if he has not dressed the columns of the paper in mourning. Such men imagine that the world rests on their shoulders.

☞ Hon. B. B. Chamberlin, President Judge of this District, gave a supper at the National Hotel, in Beaver, on Friday evening last, in honor of Judge M'Guffin, who presided at the second week of Court, to which the members of the Bar and officers of the Court were invited. There was a general attendance of the invited guests, and all enjoyed a very pleasant evening and an excellent supper.

☞ We call attention to the advertisement of Dunlap, Luker & Co., 186 Federal Street, Allegheny. They keep a large and well selected stock of Dry Goods, Carpets, Oil Cloths, &c., &c., and we advise our readers in want of any of these articles to give them a call. We are personally acquainted with the members of this firm, and can recommend them as honorable and upright business men.

Admitted.—J. R. Harrah and B. F. Wilson were admitted to the Beaver Bar last week They are both young men of ability, energy and integrity, and we have no doubt will succeed well in the profession they have chosen. It gives us pleasure to chronicle the fact of their admission to the Bar, and we trust their brightest dreams may more than be realized. We do not know what their intentions are, but should they locate in Beaver county we recommend them as young men both capable and worthy of the confidence of our citizens.

☞ The Wellsville Union, of the 29th ult., says: We were yesterday shown a specimen of lead ore which was dug on the Faulk farm, on Little Beaver creek. The farm has been leased for ninety-nine years by the American Petroleum Company of New York, who have been disposing of sub-leases at very reasonable rates. We don't know whether they will continue to lease at the same rates or not. The ore is undoubtedly of an excellent quality.

☞ On the 27th ult., Joseph Dewhirst, an Englishman, was brought before Esq. Morlan, in New Brighton, on a charge of assault and battery. It seemed that the night previous Joseph had been indulging somewhat freely in his favorite 'alf-and-'alf, at a drinking saloon, and on his way home attacked Isaac Umstead, who was standing on the side-walk, knocking him into the mud, and leaving sundry bruises on his face and head. Joseph protested that it was a fair fight, but his opponent, getting the worst of it, took to the law for satisfaction. Joseph was held to answer.

The Business Man's Opinion.—We heard one of our live business men express an opinion a few days since which is in keeping with the experience of many of the great business men of our age. In speaking of the benefits of advertising he said that "a man could make a fortune on jews-harps, if he only took the precaution to advertise largely and judiciously." No one doubts the truth of such an assertion if he looks at the matter from a common sense stand point. A great and good man once said "a business man can get along without advertising—so can a wagon without grease."

Notice to Teachers.

Persons desirous of teaching either public or private schools in Beaver county, during the coming summer, are requested to meet the undersigned at the most convenient of the following places:

Borough	do. Apr. 20,	Union	do
Ohio	do. Apr. 23,	Fairview	do
Hanover	do. Apr. 24,	Miller's	do
Moon	do. Apr. 26,	Davis'	do
Darlington	do. Apr. 28,	Darlington	do
New Brighton bor.	May 28,	Union	do

The above examinations will commence at 9 a. m., and are specially designed for applicants for summer schools. J. I. Reed, Darlington, Mar. 31, '66. Co. Sup't.

Complimentary.—We clip the following resolution passed by the House and Senate of Arizona, tendering thanks to Samuel Adams, Esq., and Capt. Trueworthy, from the Arizona Miner. Mr. Adams is well and favorably known in this county, having formerly resided and practiced law in Beaver:

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Council concurring, That the thanks of this Legislature are due and are hereby tendered to Hon. Samuel Adams and Captain Thomas Trueworthy for their untiring energy and indomitable enterprise as displayed by them in opening up the navigation of the Colorado river, the great natural thoroughfare of Arizona and Utah Territories.

Resolved further, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this House, and that the same be printed in the Arizona Miner.

To Candidates.—A number of candidates have already handed in their names for publication. As the County Convention will not likely be called for some weeks yet, we will not publish the names at present. There is no reason why the County Convention should be held earlier this year that last, which was in the latter part of June; and we presume it will not. This matter belongs to the County Committee, but we presume they look at this matter as we do and recognize the propriety of not holding the Convention at least until the latter part of June. This being the case, candidates must not get uneasy. Our charge for inserting names will be as follows:

Senate, Assembly, and Judge	$5,00
Sheriff and Register & Recorder	4,00
Commissioner and Clerk of Courts	3,00
Poor House Director and Auditor	1,00

No name will be published, unless accompanied with the money. Candidates, or their friends, who desire to accompany the announcement with a card will be charged five cents per line, which is half our usual advertising rates.

Concert at Baden.

Eds. Argus: On last Thursday, 29th of March, Mr. W. A. Smith, of Rochester, who has been teaching a vocal and instrumental class in Baden during the winter, gave a concert in the Lutheran Church of this place, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the Church was crowded to overflowing.

During the evening quite a number of pieces were sang by the class, and by one or more of the pupils, accompanied by music on the piano; and in every instance they acquitted themselves with great credit, and at the same time received much applause.—There were also a number of pieces performed by the "String Band," which was tutored by Mr. Smith, and in this he has shown that his labors were not in vain; and throughout the entire performance the audience seemed well pleased and satisfied, and upon the whole Mr. Smith has shown himself to be master of his profession.

The proceeds, quite a handsome little sum, was very generously donated by Mr. Smith for the benefit of the Sabbath Schools in Baden. We would not forget to add that Miss Marchant, a teacher of Piano Music, has many thanks for the services rendered, in entertaining the audience on that occasion M.

A Murderer Caught — Mystery Cleared up.—Sometime during last October a man named H. N. Durfee hired a horse and carriage at Grand Rapids, Michigan, and started to a neighboring town with a woman named Harriet Beldon, and an infant child. Durfee returned the horse and buggy to Grand Rapids, and immediately left the country. Subsequently the dead body of his companion in his buggy ride was found, giving evidence of having been brutally murdered. Detective officers traced Durfee to Beaver, Pennsylvania where his mother resides. They heard of him next in this city, where he remained a short time, and then went to Sharon Mercer co., where he was engaged at the iron works for a few days. From Sharon he was traced to Wirt county, West Va., where he was found by the officers a few days ago, arrested and taken to Grand Rapids. He is said to have an almost perfect complexion, and appearance of an Albino, with white hair and eyebrows and pink eyes; and has a hang-dog look which bespeaks his capability to commit any crime.—He had his hair and beard colored when arrested.—Pittsburg Chronicle

Wheat Crop in Eastern Ohio.—The Steubenville Herald learns from a gentleman, a farmer residing in that county, that during the past week he has traveled over large portions of Jefferson, Harrison, Carroll and Tuscarawas counties, paying particular attention to the appearance of the wheat fields both on the hills and in the valleys, and wheat sown upon limestone as well as sandy soil, and he reports that the prospects of a full crop are most encouraging. He has no recollection of ever seeing, at this season of the year, so wide a breadth of grain in the ground look so universally well.

Lumber Coming.—A large amount of lumber is now coming down the Allegheny river. It is stated that in the "pool" at Bethlehem, in Clarion county, there are now lying no less a number than five hundred lumber rafts destined for Pittsburg, and that so completely is Red Bank Creek, in Jefferson and Clarion counties, filled with rafts, that one can walk from Bethlehem to Brookville, a distance of about fifteen miles, without having occasion to step off the rafts at any point.

☞ The Donehoo Oil Company struck oil on Monday. This well is located in the gulch a few hundred feet above the Williams well, which is said to be one of the best in the Island Run oil regions. The Donehoo promises to be an excellent well

The Economy Oil Company had a fine show of oil on Saturday, at a depth of about 660 feet. This well is within a few yards of the Williams.

☞ There will be no change in the style of the firm of N. Holmes & Son, Pittsburg. The vacancy created by the death of the senior partner and head of the house has been provided for. In accordance with the articles of partnership, and the will of the late Mr. Holmes, his capital and interest remain in the firm so that the business will be continued precisely as heretofore, the executors representing his interest.

☞ A. G. Henry, Esq., has become editor and proprietor of the Kittanning Republican. S. P. Huston, formerly the senior editor, retiring. The Republican is a sound Union paper, and we hope Mr. Henry may meet with that success which he deserves.

☞ The banking house of Culver, Penn & Co., of New York, said to be the largest in the United States, suspended payment last week. This firm was largely interested in the Venango oil regions, and the suspension has created intense excitement and alarm in that section.

☞ Attention is called to the card of J. B. Clark, who, it will be seen, has taken charge of the Union Hotel, in this place. John served in the army for three years, and bears the scars of honorable wounds received at the "front." We hope he may have a share of the public patronage

The New Lisbon, O., Patriot says: William M'Gonigal a boy twelve years of age, was arrested on last Friday and taken to Cleveland on a charge of stealing letters from the mail. He was mail carrier between Iverness and Salineville.

Soldiers' Convention.—A Mass Convention of soldiers will be held at Meadville, on the 9th inst., at two o'clock, in the afternoon, which will be the anniversary of the surrender of Gen. Lee and his rebel hosts. Generals Burnside, Steedman, Bartlett and Fisher have been invited to attend the Convention.

☞ Wm. A. Lare, Esq., for many years the business manager of the Daily Dispatch, died in Pittsburg on 30th ult.

Important to Housekeepers.

The steady reduction of the premium on gold has sensibly affected every branch of business. The cost of merchandise in general, is growing less to the consumer every day. Stiles & Shallenberger announce to the public, what their customers have already discovered, a heavy reduction in the price of Groceries.

They give no quotations, as prices are almost daily changing, and with a downward tendency. This much, however, they will say: With a full knowledge of the Grocery business, they buy the best quality of goods to be found in the best markets, at the lowest cash rates, and have resolved to sell them at an unusually small profit.

Goods for distant points, are carefully packed, plainly marked, and delivered free of charge, at either of the railroad stations, or on board the trains, when freight is prepaid.

Farm for Sale.

THE east end of the Farm known as the Andrew Glass property, situate in Ohio township, Beaver county; containing One Hundred and Forty Acres, about one hundred acres cleared and under a good state of cultivation, is offered for sale. A good orchard on the premises. It lays on the head waters of Beahler's Run, within two miles of the celebrated Island Run oil regions, and is said to be good oil territory. For particulars, inquire of John Johnston near the premises, or of Joseph Lawrence, South Beaver tp.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

Dr. Duponco's

Golden Periodical Pills,

FOR FEMALES.

Infallible in Correcting Irregularties, Removing Obstructions of the Monthly Turns, from Whatever Cause, and ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL AS A PREVENTIVE.

It is now over thirty years since the above celebrated Pills were first discovered by Dr. DUPONCO, of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used in most of the public institutions, as well as in private practice, of both hemispheres, with unparalleled success in every case, and it is only at the "urgent request" of the thousands of Ladies who have used them, that he is induced to make the Pills public for the alleviation of those suffering from any Irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent an increase of family, where health will not permit it. Females peculiarly situated, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while in that condition, as the proprietor assumes no responsibilities after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health otherwise the Pills are recommded.

Price $1,00 per Box. Six Boxes $5.00.

Sold by S. Smith, Bridgewater, Noble & Hamilton, Beaver; S. Hannen, Rochester.

Ladies! By sending $1,00 to either of the above agents, can have the pills sent (confidentially) by mail, to any part of the country, or address the Proprietor,

BIOKRENE
OR LIFE-REJUVENATOR.

STRENGTH TO THE WEAK!
YOUTH TO THE AGED!

This preparation is unequalled as a Rejuvenator and restorer of wasted or inert functions.

The aged should be certain to make the Biokrene a household god, inasmuch as it will render them youthful in feeling and in strength, and enable them to live over again the days of their pristine joy. It not only exhilarates but strengthens, and is really an invaluable blessing, especially to those who have been reduced to a condition of servility, self abuse, misfortune, or ordinary sickness. No matter what the cause of the impotency of any human organ, this superb preparation will remove the effect at once and forever.

Biokrene

Cures Impotency, General Debility, Nervous Incapacity, Dyspepsia, Depression, Loss of Appetite, Low Spirits, weakness of the Organs of Generation, Imbecility, Mental Indolence, Emaciation, Ennui. It has a most delightful, desirable and novel effect upon the nervous system; and all who are in any way prostrated by nervous disabilities are earnestly advised to seek a cure in this most excellent and unequalled preparation.

Persons who, by imprudence, have lost their natural vigor, will find a speedy and permanent cure in the Biokrene.

The Feeble, the Languid, the Dispairing, the Old should give this valuable discovery a trial; it will be found totally different from all other articles for the same purposes.

TO FEMALES.—This preparation is invaluable in nervous weakness of all kinds, as it will restore the wasted strength with wonderful permanence.

It is also a grand tonic, and will give relief to Dyspepsia, with the first dose. A brief persistence in its use will renovate the stomach to a degree of perfect health and banish Dyspepsia forever.

One dollar per Bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by Druggist generally.

Sent by express anywhere, by addressing
HUTCHINGS & HILLYER, Proprietors,
81 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK.

☞ Sold at Marquis' Drug store, Rochester, one door below Post Office, and wholesale and retail by Dr. Smith, Bridgewater Beaver county. [nov23:1y

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES

Will immediately relieve, without pain, all disturbances of the periodic discharge, whether arising from relaxation or suppression.—They act like a charm in removing the pains that accompany difficult or immoderate menstruation, and are the only safe and reliable remedy for Flushes, Sick Headache, Pains in the Loins, Back and Sides, Palpitation of the Heart, Nervous Tremors, Hysterics, Spasms, Broken Sleep, and other unpleasant and dangerous effects of an unnatural condition of the sexual functions. In the worst cases of Fluor Albus, or Whites, they effect speedy cure.

Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills

Have been used OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY. They are offered as the only safe means of renewing interrupted menstruation, but Ladies must bear in mind that there is one condition of the female system in which the Pills cannot be taken without producing a peculiar result. The condition referred to is pregnancy—the result, miscarriage. Such is the irresistible tendency of the medicine to restore the sexual functions to a normal condition, that even the reproductive power of nature cannot resist it. They cannot do harm in any other way.

Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills

Are the only medicine that married and single ladies have relied upon for many years, or can rely upon now. Beware of imitations! These Pills form the Finest Preparation ever put forward, with immediate and persistent success.—DON'T BE DECEIVED. Take this advertisement to your Druggist, and tell him that you want the best and most reliable Female Medicine in the world, which is comprised in

Dr. Cheeseman's Female Pills!!

They have received, and are now receiving the sanction of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions with each Box—the price, ONE DOLLAR per box, containing from 50 to 60 pills.

Pills, sent by mail, promptly, by remitting the price to the Proprietors, or any authorized Agent, in current funds. Sold by Druggists generally.

HUTCHINGS & HILLIER, Proprietors,

☞ Sold Wholesale and Retail by Dr. S. Smith, Bridgewater; Dr. Marquis and J. H. Hannen, Rochester; John Moore, Beaver, and by all Druggists at New Brighton. [nov23:1y

"Use the Best!"
DR. CLOCK'S

EXCELSIOR HAIR RESTORER IS THE best ever offered to the public and the only one possessing all the merits claimed for it.—It restores gray hair to its original color, makes hair grow on bald heads when falling off from disease; removes Scruff, Dandruff, etc.; arrests its falling off or turning gray, cures sick headache and all diseases of the scalp, causes harsh, wiry hair to become soft, pliable and luxuriantly glossy. It is elegantly perfumed, and all that can be desired for a dressing. It contains no sugar of lead or other mineral so injurious to the head and hair, and of which most preparations now in use are composed, but is a purely vegetable compound. WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce an instance where the Restorer has failed when used according to directions. Among the thousands who have used it we have yet to learn of one who is not perfectly satisfied with its results. Hair white as snow is with marvelous rapidity restored to all its pristine beauty by its use. It is not a dye, but by supplying the secretions of the capillary glands acts as a restorer. Mothers, whose children's hair is harsh, wiry, or thin and scant, will find by using the Restorer it will immediately improve and may be dressed in any desired form, thus laying the foundation for a good head of hair, so desirable in after life. The proprietor is aware of the many who have been disappointed by the high sounding pretense of the numerous preparations with which the market has been filled for a few years past, but such entire confidence does he place in the merits of his Restorer that he offers, in all cases, to refund the money if, after a thorough trial of two bottles, it fails to give perfect satisfaction. A single trial will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Put up in large bottles and sold by all druggists at $1 pr bottle.

The works will be printed on a greatly improved quality of paper, and while nearly all American Periodicals are either advanced in price or reduced in size—and very generally both—we shall continue to give faithful copies of all the matters contained in the original editions Hence, our present prices will be found as cheap, for the amount of matter furnished, as those of any of the competing periodicals in this country.

Compared with the cost of the originals editions, which at the present premium on gold would be about $160 a year, our prices ($15) are exceedingly low. Add to this the fact that we make our annual payments to the British Publishers for early sheets and copyright in Gold—$1 costing us at this time (Jan. 1865) nearly $2,50 in currency—and we trust that in the scale we have adopted we shall be entirely justified by our subscribers and the reading public.

The interest of these Periodicals to American readers is rather increased than diminished by the articles they contain on our Civil War, and though sometimes tinged with prejudice, they may still, considering their great abilility and the different stand-points from which they are written, be read and studied with advantage by the people of this country, of every creed and party.

THE FOUR REVIEWS for 1863.

A few copies of the above remain on hand, and will be sold at $5 for the whole four, or $2 for any one.

We also publish the

PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL

DAILY AND WEEKLY.

FOR 1866.

The Size and Standing of the Commercial.

The Commercial is the largest paper in the State, having been twice enlarged within the last eighteen months. No paper in the State gives so much, and there are few in the country that give an equal amount of reading matter. In this respect, and for its general character and tone, it ranks among the leading journals of the country.

OUR PUBLISHING FACILITIES.

Determined to spare neither labor nor expense, our publishing facilities have been increased within the last few months, at an outlay of Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars, placing us for some time to come beyond the reach of competition.

Extraordinary Success of the Commercial.

Although but just entering on its third year, the Commercial has already an unequalled circulation and influence throughout a wide and constantly extending district of country, embracing Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, while throughout all the west, and in the eastern cities, its circulation is by no means inconsiderable and rapidly growing.

Character and Aims of the Commercial.

Not strictly partizan, nor devoted to any peculiar ideas, the Commercial goes before the public on its merits, asking only just so much favor and patronage as it deserves, and its success can be said to be little less than extraordinary. Although in the future, as in the past, the Commercial wi'l, in a special manner, be devoted to the interests of Pittsburg, it will continue to be Pennsylvania and Union paper, promoting the interests of labor, intelligence, and public and private virtue with whatever influence it can command or power it can exert. Rising above mere party aims and influences, chained to no one idea, the organ of no sect or party, but believing in Freedom and Progress, and devoted only to truth, the Commercial will treat all public questions and express its views of public men in an independent and liberal spirit. To the present National Administration and the Union cause it will give a hearty tho' not servile support.

THE LATEST NEWS.

Few journals in the country spend so much money in obtaining the latest and most reliable intelligence as the Commercial. In a single item of telegraphing alone it paid during the last year on an average about One Thousand Dollars a Month—or more in one month, probably, than was paid by any other Pittsburg paper for the entire year.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS.

We have also at the principal seats of interest, special correspondents, keeping a watchful eye on whatever is of interest or value to the public. No paper in the State has so large a corps of correspondents, and it gives us pleasure to be able to say that we are continually adding to the number writers of experience and ability.

OIL INTELLIGENCE

By common consent, the Commercial is the standard journal of the country with Petroleum dealers and operators everywhere. In this respect it has no competitor, and the facilities for obtaining this kind of information we are constantly extending.

OUR WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

Through a Special Dispatch Bureau, maintained at a large expense, our Washington reports are as full and reliable as any, and are in no respect excelled by those of even the Metropolitan press. At this hour of great questions, these facilities are necessary to supply the demand of the public for news from the National Capitol.

MARKET REPORTS.

The Daily Reports of the Commercial of the Pittsburgh, all the leading Domestic and the Foreign Markets, are prepared by competent and experienced Reporters, and their widespread popularity attest their value. The amount of matter in this Department of the Commercial alone, frequently exceeds the entire reading pages of some of our cotemporaries.

THE FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

This Department is in the hands of a gentleman of experience and acknowledged ability, and his reports have at all times a special value.

The Local Department.

This Department of the Commercial is unexcelled. To test the truth of this, take the local page of any of our neighbors, cut from it all that is not strictly local—letters from abroad and essays on abstract subjects, such as we classify properly on other pages, and exclude what no respectable paper should print—and then compare the remainder with our local page, which does not belie its name.

Editorial and General News.

With a corps of writers of acknowledged ability and experience, these departments of the Commercial compare favorably with the leading journals of the country—and we have only to say that nothing will be omitted that is necessary to maintain for our paper in these and all other respects this standing.

In short, in every department, and as a whole, the Commercial is a Sound, Comprehensive and Reliable Newspaper.

Whatever is offensive to a cultivated moral taste is scrupulously excluded from its columns, and our constant aim is to publish nothing that does not serve some valuable purpose.—A peculiar feature of the COMMERCIAL is

"THE PULPIT,"

In which Department is given, every Saturday, a sermon furnished precisly for it.

The reading specially prepared under the head of

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD

Constitute another peculiar feature of great value.

THE DAILY COMMERCIAL

Is published at the following rates:

ONE YEAR	$10 00
HALF YEAR	5 00
QUARTER YEAR	2 50
PER WEEK, BY CARRIER	25

WEEKLY COMMERCIAL.

The weekly issue of the COMMERCIAL is not surpassed either in the amount or kind of matter given. It is made up expressly for the country reader,—it is filled with choice reading, the news, the market reports, general intelligence, Poetry, besides

A Sermon Every Week.

HARPER'S
NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

Critical Notices of the Press.

It is the foremost Magazine of the day.—The Fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more entertaining friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore).

The most popular Monthly in the World.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People, and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines, in itself the piety monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—HANNAY'S Guide to American Literature, London.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading, such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.

SUBSCRIPTIONS.
1866.

The Publishers have perfected a system of mailing by which they can supply the MAGAZINE and WEEKLY promptly to those who prefer to receive their periodicals directly from the office of publication
